

SUBSCRIPTIONS MOUNT AS THE CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO A CLOSE

County Banks Respond to Last-Minute Appeal to Save the Reputation of the County

ALLOTMENT NOT YET REACHED

Boy Scouts Add Subscriptions Totalling $2,500, Two Days Work Netting $3,500

GET $2,200 AT GLENWOOD

Carthage is Making Final Drive Today to Reach Their Estimated Quota of $30,000

The banks of Rush county have responded to the last-minute appeal of the federal authorities pushing the sale of the Liberty Loan bonds and have subscribed $357,500 to the loan up to today, it was announced, but the county still lacks several thousand dollars of reaching its apportionment. The bankers organization is very anxious that the county reach its full quota.

The subscriptions of the people of the county are still very much below the total for Rush county, but the bankers have subscribed liberally to come nearer to the county's share, with the confidence that the people will invest liberally in the issue. The bankers raised their subscriptions to save the reputation of Rush county which has been suffering and for the additional reason that it is the patriotic duty of the county to uphold its part of the country's burden in making the Liberty Loan a success.

The Boy Scouts have been doing some wonderful work in spreading the gospel of the Liberty Loan and several Scouts now have visions of a war medal for selling one thousand dollars worth of bonds.

The canvass of Glenwood last night and this morning by four Boy Scouts, who camped at Glenwood over night, netted subscriptions amounting to $2,200. The Boy Scouts working in Rushville yesterday turned in $2,500 more in subscriptions, making $3,500 in Rushville in two days.

Carl Webb, who is engineering the activities of the Boy Scouts in the Liberty Loan canvass, received a card this morning from F. O. Beeler of Indianapolis, who is directing Boy Scout work there, that only $49,300 had been raised by the Boy Scouts in the state. This makes it appear that the Boy Scouts efforts here have been above the average throughout the state.

Tomorrow marks the close of the campaign to sell the issue of two billion dollars. The court house bell last night tolled again, to let the people know that only two more days remained. The United States treasury also requested that church, school and court house bells be tolled today for five minutes at the beginning of each hour from 3 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Word from Carthage today was that an effort would be made to carry out that program there. The church bells and the school house bell was to be tolled as requested to call the attention of the people to the necessities of the hour. When the canvassers began this morning at Carthage, between nine and ten thousand dollars had been subscribed. Carthage hoped to make it $30,000 by tonight, the estimated full quota for that vicinity. The Bank of Carthage will be open tonight to accommodate any who may wish to invest.

The Elks, at their regular meeting tonight, decided to subscribe a thousand dollars to the Liberty Loan. Two other lodges, the Knights of Pythias and the Masons at Orange have already subscribed.

Ready To Help Save The Nation Once More.

A veteran of the civil war, who is now in his ninetieth year, went to a Rushville bank this morning and said that he wanted to subscribe for a Liberty Loan bond.

"I helped save the nation once," he remarked, "and I would like to do it again."

KILLED BY BOLT AND HOGS MUTILATE BODY

Alonzo Matox, Living East of Raleigh, Hit by Lightning While Feeding Wednesday Evening

HIS BODY IS DISMEMBERED

Alonzo Matox, age forty-two, a farmer living one mile east of Raleigh, was struck by lightning in a field on his farm yesterday evening and the hogs terribly mutilated his body before it was found by his wife.

Mr. Matox went to the field to feed the hogs. When he did not return for supper, Mrs. Matox became alarmed and went in search of him. She found his body torn and rent. The hogs all but ate his feet off, gnawed at his bowels and mutilated his face so that he was scarcely recognizable. Mrs. Matox was horror stricken and went for help. Dr. Lowell M. Green, coroner, was called from Rushville.

It is presumed that Mr. Mattox was instantly killed by lightning. It appeared that the bolt had torn his shoes from his feet.

Mr. Matox lived on Mrs. Kennedy's farm. He is survived by the widow and three children. The funeral will be held at Knightstown tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

DISMISSES CHARGE AND ASKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Coleman Jackson Consents to Withdrawing Affidavit But Files Suit For Separation

ABANDONMENT IS CHARGED

Following the dismissal of a criminal charge against Coleman Jackson of marrying to escape criminal prosecution, Mrs. Laura Jackson of Carthage filed suit for divorce today in circuit court. They were married in March 24, 1917. A short time after their marriage Mrs. Jackson had him arrested. The criminal case was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney with the consent of the prosecuting witness.

In the divorce complaint Mrs. Jackson alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and abandonment. She states that he refused to visit her whenever he came to Carthage. Jackson is employed on a farm near Carthage.

MAY HOLD STATE GUARD

Washington, June 14.—The general staff is considering holding the middlewest National Guard regiments in their state mobilization camps until the hot weather in the south has passed. At present the movement towards the border is scheduled for about August 1 but army officers assert it would cause hardship to send the men from the north into the south in the middle of the summer.

1ST LIEUTENANT IN GUARD

Dr. C. J. Tucker Attached to Medical Corps of First Regiment

Dr. Carroll J. Tucker of this city has received his commission as First Lieutenant in the medical corps of the Indiana National guard and will be attached to the First Indiana regiment. Dr. Tucker will go to Fort Benjamin Harrison next Wednesday for training and will remain there until about August 5. Mrs. Tucker will remain in Rushville until August 5. Dr. Tucker has been in Rushville for the past two years and during this time has made many friends.

WILL MAKE FINAL PLAN FOR CANVASS

Red Cross Teams and Auxiliary Chairmen Will Meet at Headquarters Friday Evening

PREACHERS MEETING TODAY

Will Give War Relief Publicity Sunday—New Salem Meeting Monday—Milroy Grows to 212

Final arrangements for the campaign to raise Rush county's allotment—$10,500—to the Red Cross War Relief fund will be made at a meeting of the finance committee and their helpers and the chairmen of the township auxiliaries at a meeting to be held at Red Cross headquarters Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

The ten team captains, who are the members of the original finance committee of the Rush county chapter, received cards this morning asking each one and the three members of his team to attend the meeting. Similar notices were also sent to the heads of the township auxiliaries.

The city will be districted for the ten canvassing teams and it is likely that it will be definitely decided how much of the county apportionment must be raised in the city and how much will be expected from each township. Supplies for the canvassers will be ready Friday night.

On account of the unfavorable weather, a Red Cross auxiliary was not organized at New Salem last night, but another meeting will be held when the purpose for which the meeting was called last night will be accomplished. It is the first time in the organization of the county that there has not been a crowd large enough to form an auxiliary. A heavy storm came up just at the time for the meeting and kept many people away. Eight or ten attended, however, and plans were discussed so that a large crowd is expected.

TO DISCUSS THE CAMPAIGN

Republican Precinct Committeemen Will Meet Saturday Night

The republican precinct committeemen will meet Saturday night in the office of County Chairman Fon Riggs to discuss plans for the congressional campaign. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock, and is being held at night so that the farmers can attend. Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, the republican candidate for congress and District Chairman Bossert of Liberty will be present to address and meet the committeemen.

FOUR MEETINGS TO BE HELD IN COUNTY

Senator Harding, Senator Jones, Congressman Bland and P. J. Lynch to Speak in Campaign

MILROY, CARTHAGE, AND HERE

Congressman Bland Will be at Former Place June 22—Four Speeches for Senator Watson

In the list of speaking dates assigned for Rush county in the congressional campaign three and possibly four meetings are scheduled. Senator Jones will speak at Carthage on June 19. On June 22 Senator Harding will speak in Rushville and on this same date Congressman Bland will speak at Milroy. P. J. Lynch of Newcastle has been assigned to Rush county for June 20, but the place or places where he will speak have not been announced.

The list of speakers and dates as announced by Fred C. White, chairman of the republican speaker's committee follow:

June 18—Senator Jones at Connersville; Senator Curtis of Kansas, at Knightstown.

June 19—Senator Charles Jones at Carthage; Senator Curtis at Hagerstown.

Compare What is Asked of County To Contribution of Volunteers

(By the REV. C. M. YOCUM)

Last night Company B. drilled on the streets of Rushville. Soon they will be called out to take their places with the United States troops in France. Watch them as they drill and as you do think of the contribution they are making to the cause of liberty, justice and equality. Economists tell us that the average man is capable of producing $600 per year, or is equal in commercial value to a factory or machine costing $10,000 producing at 6%. Considered only commercially, therefore each man in Co. B. is making a direct contribution to his government of $10,000.

Next week Rush county, rich, prosperous Rush County, will be asked to contribute $10,500 to help in the $100,000,000 fund for Red Cross work. This is practically the same amount each man in Company B. is contributing personally. Think of it. The farmers and merchants and professional men and women in all Rush County combined are asked to contribute only what each youth in Company B. is now contributing. How paltry the sum when put on this basis.

But though small the contribution will be worth infinitely more now than one year or six months hence. It will strengthen the French, English, Russian and Italian armies now in the field by giving them better hospital service. Thus the sick and wounded will the earlier return to the trenches. It will assist in rehabilitating the demoralized Russian army thus adding great menace to the Prussian cause. All this will tend to save the lives of our own boys by minimizing the necessity of their go-

To Stay Rest of Week to Examine Recruits For Company B.

Lieutenant Hayworth was here today examining recruits for Company B., Fourth regiment, I. N. G., and will remain the rest of the week to make physical examination of men as fast as they enlist. Lieut. Hayworth, Capt. Kiplinger and other officers of Company B. will go to Greensburg Friday night where several recruits for the local company will be examined. Capt. Kiplinger estimated today that about thirty men were still needed to reach war strength and expressed the belief that the number required would soon be obtained.

POLICE ASKED TO FIND FARMER'S WIFE

Mrs. Noda Young, Wife of Sam Young, Missing From Home North of City Since Last Friday

HER ASSISTANCE IS NEEDED

The police this morning were asked to aid in finding Mrs. Noda Young, wife of Sam Young, living on the Alger farm, north of the city. Mrs. Young left home last Friday and is believed to be in Rushville. No reason has been given for her leaving home and the relatives are anxious to find her as the family needs her assistance. Mrs. Young has four children, the youngest being two years old.

Relatives tracing her found that she was at the home of Mrs. Boone Gilson from Friday until Monday and then came here. Mrs. E. N. Gross is a sister of the missing woman.

RELATIONS WITH JAPAN STRAIGHTENED

An Explanation of Misunderstanding is Sent to the American Ambassador at Tokio

BOGUS NOTE IS THE CAUSE

Washington, June 14.—Relations between the United States and Japan, upset over a misunderstanding as to America's purposes in regard to China, were straightened out satisfactorily today through an explanation sent the American ambassador in Tokio.

At the same time an investigation was started to ascertain the source of a bogus note purporting to have been cabled from New York to Tokio which aroused resentment in Japan. Japan's resentment was stirred when a newspaper printed what purported to be a note. This message made the United States say that the Chinese revolution should be quelled because Germany and Russia were about to make a separate peace and Japan intended to send her troops into Manchuria. The true notes sent China, merely expressed the hope of this government for a settlement of the internal trouble.

London, June 14.—Private McDonald, of Omaha, has a new jawbone today, thanks to the skill of British surgeons. McDonald is with the Sixtieth battalion. During a charge at the German trenches a shrapnel burst overhead, and when McDonald came to his senses a piece of his jawbone was gone. A bone was grafted to fill the gap, and now all that indicates the wound is a red scar running from the back of his jaw to his mouth.

President Delivers Flag Day Speech Warning of Blood and Suffering Country Must Endure

PICTURES GERMANY'S PLOT

Earnestly Inveighs Against Any Consideration of Alleged Peace Proposals

HE ASSAILS PROPOGANDISTS

Woe to The Man or Group of Men That Seek to Stand in Our Way, He Says in Conclusion

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—America is at war "in the sense of our right as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government."

President Wilson thus stated why America is fighting in a speech today solemnly warning of the blood and suffering the country must endure. The address was delivered at the local Flag Day celebration. The president pictured Germany's "military masters" in a sinister plot of yearning, reaching out, corrupting and scheming to deceive their own people and master other smaller nations; "to throw a broad belt of German military power and political control across the great center of Europe and into the heart of Asia."

The president earnestly inveighed against any consideration of alleged peace proposals. Likewise he bitterly assailed German propagandists in the United States who are seeking to undermine the nation.

"For us there is but one choice," the president concluded. "We have made it. Woe be to the man or group of men that seek to stand in our way in this day of high resolution when every principle we hold dearest is to be made secure for the salvation of the nation. We are ready to plead at the bar of history and our flag shall wear a new lustre."

President Wilson said: "My fellow citizens: We meet to celebrate flag day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute these choices, whether in peace or in war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us, speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and records they wrote upon it. We celebrate the day of its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high in symbol of great events, of the great plan of life worked out by a great people. We are about to carry it into battle, to lift it where it will draw the fire of our enemies. We are about to bid thousands, hundreds of thousands, it may be millions of our men, the young, the strong, the capable men of our nation, to go forth and die beneath it in fields of blood far away—for what? For some unaccustomed thing? For something for which it has never sought the fire before? American colors were never before sent across the sea. Why are they sent now? For some new purpose for which this great flag has never been carried before or for some old heroic purpose for which it has seen men, its own men die on every battlefield on which Americans have borne arms since the revolution?"

"These are questions which must be answered. We are Americans. We in our turn serve America and can serve her with no private purpose. We must use her flag as she has always used it. We are accountable at the bar of history and must plead

RIGHTS OF ACCUSED.

Copyright 1917 by John A. Lapp.

Lapp. Elements of Civics, Chap. 4. Arbitrary governments often throw men into prison for alleged offenses and kept them there so that they might not be troublesome. Men were harassed by continual trials for the same offense and when thrown into prison were treated rigorously whether guilty or not.

Out of the long struggle for human liberty have come certain principles which are now a part of every man's conscience. One of these principles is, that "every man shall be deemed innocent until he is proven guilty." Every right is therefore accorded to him to prove his innocence because "it is better that ten guilty men should escape than one innocent person should suffer."

Both federal and state constitutions provide therefore that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; that every person shall have the right to a speedy and fair trial; that no person shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense; that cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted; that excessive fines shall not be imposed; and that every person shall have the right of habeas corpus—that is to have the right to be brought before the court to see if they are lawfully held.

The Indiana constitution goes further and declares that "the penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation and not of vindictive justice," thus setting up a standard for penal reform to which the state is admonished to adhere.

Of all the pernicious practices of the past, imprisonment for debt was perhaps the worst. Good men were thrown into prison where they could not earn money to pay their debts and because they could not pay they were kept there. Mere misfortune was more often the cause of imprisonment than criminal intent. The pitiable object of honest men in prison for no other cause than that they were unable to meet their debts caused good men to protest and finally, in many states, that protest became lodged in the people's conscience and was placed in their constitutions. A typical provision is this from Indiana's constitution, Sec. 22. The privilege of the debtor to enjoy the necessary comforts of life, shall be recognized by wholesome laws, exempting a reasonable amount of property from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability hereafter contracted; and there shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud.

The federal constitution contains no such guarantee and we have the condition of being protected against imprisonment for debt under state laws but not against imprisonment for debt under federal laws. However, the spirit of the provision prevents and there is not likely to be any imprisonment for debt.

The federal constitution declares: No state may pass an ex post facto law—that is a law which provides for punishment for a crime committed before the law was enacted or increases the punishment or makes conviction easier in such cases. The federal constitution also prohibits the passage of such laws by congress. Indiana has the same provision but it is unnecessary because of the federal provision prohibiting the states from passing such laws.

Likewise the federal constitution prohibits the passage of laws by the states and by congress which impair the obligations of contracts. One exception is made in a few states and is quite generally proposed—namely, that any contract granting a franchise, privilege or immunity shall be subject to alteration, revocation or amendment at any time. By this provision the rights of the public are protected against the granting of perpetual franchises by corrupt city councils or others who hold power. Since the famous Dartmouth College opinion, written by John Marshall in 1803, a franchise has been held to be a contract which could not be taken away or impaired. The experience of many cities proves the necessity that any one securing a franchise does so with the understanding that it may be taken away.

Above all rights named by the constitution, the provision—that the legislature "shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities which upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens", strikes the average person as being nearer to fair play and democracy than any single declaration. "Equal rights for all and special privileges to none" is another way of putting it.

One of the rights which the people of the United States and of each state have sought to preserve was their freedom from arbitrary military power. When our forefathers won independence and established this government, they kept in mind the dangers of military power which had been throughout history the principal menace to people's liberty. They recognized the necessity for an army and navy for common protection, but they recognized, also, that the army should be subject to the people in such a way as to prevent the overthrow of liberties by successful generals. The Declaration of Independence voiced the sentiment of the people on this subject. One of the principal causes for separation from England was declared to be that the king had "affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power," and that he had "kept among us in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our legislature."

So great was the fear of standing armies that the constitution makers in 1787, when fixing the powers of Congress, provided that Congress should have power "to raise and support armies but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years."

Thus the need to raise and support armies was recognized, but fearing lest the army should become too powerful, it was provided that its supplies would have to be voted every two years. Any attempt of an army to dominate, as in some other countries, would be met by the failure of the money chest. Indiana put in the bill of rights in its constitutions the provision declaring that the military should always be kept strictly subordinate to the civil authorities.

One of the first amendments to the United States Constitution, passed in 1791, declared that no soldiers should in time of peace be quartered in any person's house without the consent of the owner. Indiana's constitution made a similar declaration. These provisions all tended to keep the military from any chance to dominate the citizens. But the people went still further in their attempt to safeguard themselves against military power. They gave authority to Congress "to provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively, the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress."

Here, then, is a complete check to prevent a standing army from becoming a menace. Thus, no money available for the standing army unless the representatives of the people in Congress see fit to vote it every two years, and the militia of the states, while under the regulation of the United States and subject to call from the United States, is commanded by men appointed by the different states, the officers being subject to appointment by the governor or other civil authorities in the different states.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR SECOND CAMP

Another School For Officers Will Be Opened Twelve Days After Close of Present One

APPLICATIONS BY JULY 15

Army Officers Hope That Men of More Mature Years Will Apply For This Camp

(By United Press.)

Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 13.—Arrangements are already being made for the second officers training camp which will open at this fort twelve days following the close of the present course of instruction on August 15.

All applications for the new camp must be filed between June 15 and July 15, according to word received by military authorities at Washington. No applications will be received after that date. Those who made applications will be received for the first camp but who were not accepted, must again make formal application if they wish to enter the second camp. Their first applications will be of no avail.

The camp will be composed of men from Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia. Application for entrance should be made to the camp officials here or to Gen. Thomas H. Barry, commander of the Central Army division at Chicago or to the adjutant general of the state.

Application should bear the endorsement of three resident citizens. Army officers here hope that men of more mature years will make application to join the next camp. Many of those who made application for the first course were barely over the age limit. Military officials realize that an officer should be a man of considerable experience, education and training in order to be able to command the respect of

AIR SUPREMACY NECESSARY TO WIN

Howard E. Coffin Tells Sub-Committee of Senate Military Affairs Committee This Today

WILL BE GREAT INSPIRATION

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—The war cannot possibly be won without air supremacy, according to Howard E. Coffin, speaking before a sub-committee of the senate military affairs committee today. He declared the greatest inspiration to American genius was to gain supremacy in her two inventions, her aeroplane and the submarine.

"The greatest service the United States government can do," he said, "is to turn our wonderful resources to giving the allies supremacy of the air."

Red Cross War Relief

The Red Cross needs $100,000,000 right away. We have been so much in the habit of seeing "O's," three in a set with a comma after them, that we are almost immune to any sensation that would a year ago have startled us had any agency asked for a million or a billion. It has been less than a billion minutes since Christ was born. Perhaps, by considering that, we may in a small measure be able to realize what a billion dollars is. But the nation is asking us to subscribe two billion dollars to the Liberty Loan and now comes the Red Cross with an appeal for $100,000,000.

That is a lot of money. But the Red Cross war council says the people of the United States will not only have to supply that sum, but much more. Henry P. Davison, chairman of the council, has said this under his own signature. So it is well that we turn to our tasks with determination because it is before us to do. Next week is the week and Rush county has to donate $10,500. We actually have to do it. There are no "ifs" and "ands."

There has been some question about the obligations of the Red Cross and its particular field of work. If the Red Cross is to be the recognized organization through which this work must be carried on, it must work in many new fields, in many new ways.

Our great trouble today is that our people do not realize the situation throughout the countries now at war. They must be made to realize them, and the obligation upon us is to see that it is done as soon as possible.

The Red Cross is doing a noble work. It is an obligation upon every man, woman and child in this country. It is hoped that it will be sufficiently realized that we shall not only enjoy the satisfaction of contributing our energies and our money, but we will also have thereby received a very great benefit.

Certainly there is nothing that this people need more than a sense of sacrifice. This is no time to listen to the man who says, "I am contributing so much here and so much there, taxes are very high and the cost of living is growing."

The question of opportunity comes up—whether we shall do it at this time or another time. There is no calendar on the battlefield. There is no waiting for conditions there, and we cannot wait for conditions here.

There are many very fine activities through other organizations throughout all parts of this country, born of the very best spirit, based on patriotism, on something of appreciation of the needs. In this campaign we can have but one thing in mind, and that is the Red Cross. It must be the Red Cross first, last and all the time, because if we begin to recognize this agency or that agency, we will lessen our effectiveness, and no one will succeed.

Appreciating the importance of that, and recognizing the fine work these fine organizations are doing, a committee has been appointed by the War Council, with Judge Robert S. Lovett, Chairman of the Board of the Union Pacific Railroad, at its head, to coordinate the work of these organizations with the Red Cross. Where there is duplication where there is waste of effort that committee will recommend, to this activity or that activity that it bring its influence in through the Red Cross. Their character, fine personnel, fine pride, and that proper esprit de corps, which makes them feel that they want to live in history, should be recognized. We should say to such an organization, "You are doing a fine work. We need your organization. We ask you to continue, and we would like you to continue under your own name, but in co-operation with our organization."

The great patriotic movements throughout the country should be driven in a way which will be the most effective; and as the Red Cross is the recognized official organization, there seemed but one thing to do, and that was to co-ordinate them through our Red Cross.

Real Censorship

Mr. Root and his party traversed the continent, took a naval vessel from a Pacific port and made a Russian destination without a word being printed about it in any newspaper. Only upon their arrival on Russian soil was the information made public. Yet the newspapers knew about it. There's censorship for you of the best kind. It is far better than any which can be imposed by act of Congress or by George Creel and his bureau and Bulletin. It is the kind that is based upon patriotism and a genuine desire to be of service to the country. Such censorship strives to withhold as much as possible. Under statute-made censorship the desire would be always to get as much into print as possible.

Parading Disloyalty

Sunday, June 3, was the anniversary of Jefferson Davis's birth. That day found the United Confederate Veterans in session at the capital of the nation they had tried to disrupt. They held a memorial service at historic Arlington, the wonderfully beautiful resting place of so many nameless Union dead. The young men training at Fort Meyer were turned out to parade in honor of the butternut boys. The President of the United States went over to betoken his respect. Southern orators made melodious speeches—and the treason of a half century ago was glorified. That same day the Department of Justice ordered the arrest of men and women in different parts of the country for attempting to hamper registration and to resist the draft. We wonder if these latter-day traitors will come to their own as the years roll by, if they will have their day when men who wear the uniform of the nation will parade in their honor, when a President will grace the occasion and when orators will extol them as having been "right" and as having no apologists. We wonder.

Soon many of our young men will be hunting the trenches in France, while others will be ogling the pretty girls on the bathing beaches. Yes, there's a difference.

Having kicked their masters out, the Russian people are up against an even harder job in kicking themselves in.

For once we are perfectly willing to see congress remain on the job. Until they provide for jailing the food hogs.

Ivy Co. No. 35 Will Leave Sunday Morning at 8:30 O'clock in Automobiles for Richmond

MAKE FINAL PLANS TONIGHT

Ivy Company, No. 35 Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will leave here Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock for Richmond to participate in the Third Regiment memorial services and annual inspection. The trip will be made in automobiles and at a meeting tonight final arrangements for the trip will be made.

Brigadier General Gray will preside at the election to name a lieutenant colonel. The officer's school will be held at one o'clock and the parade will start at two o'clock. The memorial services will be held in Glen Miller park at three o'clock. General Gray and his staff will review and inspect the regiment following the memorial address. The First regiment under command of Col. Frank Shellhouse will also participate in the ceremonies. The memorial services were held in Rushville last year.

FOLIAGE IS OFTEN DAMAGED BY LARVAE

Orchardists Urged to Watch Cherry and Pear Trees by State Entomologist

LOOK AS THOUGH BURNED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—Foliage of cherry and pear trees are severely damaged each year by the larvae of a small saw fly and orchardists should take pains to protect their trees, according to a statement issued today by Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist.

"Sometimes the leaves are so severely injured that they have the appearance of having been burned," the statement says. "The flies lay their eggs under the skin of the leaves. When small they are nearly white but as they grow, a dark slimy secretion covers them and they look almost black. Wherever they are noticed the trees should be sprayed with arsenate of lead or they can be dusted with air slacked lime which sticks to the slime on the bodies of the larvae and dries them up. On small trees in the city, they can be washed off by turning a strong stream of water from a hose on the leaves."

FEDERAL CONTROL OF MILLS RECOMMENDED

Federal Trade Commission Advises Senate to Take Over Plants of Paper Manufacturers

$17,500,000 EXCESS PROFITS

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—All paper mills in the United States will be placed under government control during the war and a request made of the Canadian government to take the same course, if a recommendation made to the senate by the federal trade commission is carried out.

The price of newspaper print paper has risen more than 50 per cent since 1916, according to the report and all efforts to restore arbitrarily competition has failed. It is estimated by the commission that paper manufacturers during 1916 received over $17,500,000 in excess profits and that paper during 1917 will cost $35,000,000 more to the consumers than last year.

FIRST FESTIVAL TO BE HELD AT NEW SALEM

Rushville Merchants Will Co-Operate With M. P. Church in Holding an Ice Cream Social

SUCCESS IN FAYETTE COUNTY

The first of a series of joint rural church festivals, in which the merchants of Rushville will co-operate will be held at the New Salem M. P. church next Wednesday evening. A committee is now at work recruiting automobiles which will haul Rushville business men and their families to New Salem for the festival.

The local business men will co-operate with the Methodist Protestant church and Sunday school in providing music and ice cream and cake, which will be sold. The Rev. Mr. Liff is pastor of the church and George Spillman is superintendent of the Sunday school, with whom arrangements were made for the festival.

The business men's organization plans to hold a number of such festivals this summer in all parts of the county. A similar scheme has been tried with success in Fayette county. The second one of the season was held Tuesday evening by the Connersville merchants in conjunction with the members of a Bentonville church.

ing out at the earliest moment. It will also give them adequate hospital care when they do go out which is the very least that we can do for them. If they are willing to go out to stand knee deep in mud in war trenches, there to eat, sleep and fight for us and our homes, then let us gladly do the least of our duties by giving them adequate Red Cross backing.

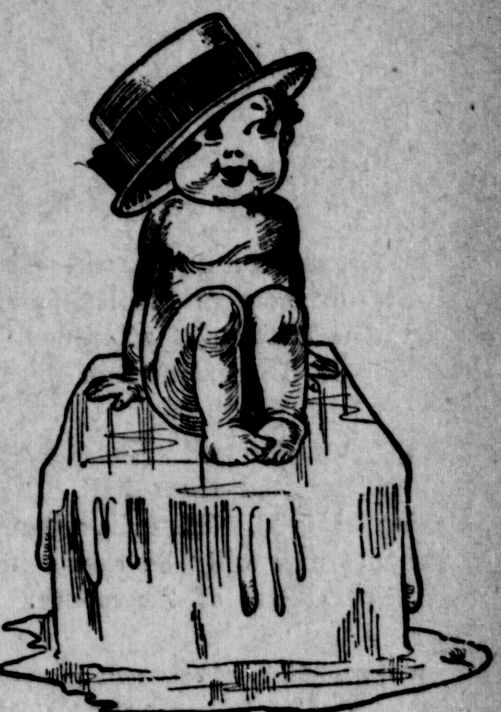

All Rush County is asked to contribute now an amount equal to the value of one man. Is this too much? Is our fair county not able to respond? With fertile soil capable of the hundred fold production, warmed by the sunshine of blessing nowhere brighter or more glorious, while the refreshing rain of God's grace falls upon it in gentle yet copious showers Rush County is more than able. It is a paltry sum indeed for which to ask. Of course Rush County can and will contribute it gladly. If Rush County should fail to give this amount our faces should burn with shame. To bring peace at the earliest moment with the least loss, let us contribute at once.

Miss Marguerite Kelly was the charming hostess to a number of her girl friends, last evening when she entertained with a three course dinner at her home in North Jackson street, complimentary to Miss Florence Bufkin of Newcastle, the house guest of Miss Phyllis Casady.

A color scheme of pink and white was used in all of the appointments. The guests were the Misses Bufkin, Josephine Scholl, Phyllis Casady and Jean Sparks.

Miss Gladys Tittsworth proved to be a delightful hostess last evening when she entertained the Misses Marian Tittsworth, Harriet Smith, Elsie Frazee, Marie Clark, Phyllis Dean, Dorothy Frazee, Paul Thorpe, Howard Brecheisen, Clifford Mauzy, Russell Tittsworth, Lee Retherford, Paul Newhouse, and Clifford Stevens, with a pitch-in supper, at her home in North Main street. After supper, the guests enjoyed a theater party.

Mrs. Lote Carter royally entertained the members of the Wednesday evening 500 club, and one table of guests, Mrs. Ferd Retherford, Mrs. Charlie Brown, Mrs. Walter Hubbard and Mrs. Henry Osterman of Seymour, last evening at the home in North Morgan street. Mrs. Walter Hubbard won the unique prize at the guest table and Mrs. Lou Weeks was the other prize winner. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Twenty members of the Sunshine Embroidery club of Raleigh and a number of guests were entertained by Mrs. John L. Nipp, yesterday afternoon at her home in North Harrison street. All of the appointments were in pink and white, including the decorations in the living room and the beautifully laid table, on which the luncheon was served which was centered with a mass of pink and white peonies. The pleasant afternoon hours were whiled away over needlework.

The Home Economics club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the assembly room of the court house at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. The roll call responses will be food preservation hints, but "The Child" will be the principal theme of the program which follows: "Food for Children," Mrs. Hall; "Clothing for Children," Mrs. Dill; "School Lunches," Mrs. Arbuckle; "Candy for Children," Miss Armstrong; "Play for Children," Mrs. Matney.

The club has secured for free distribution kitchen charts to aid in the preparation of balanced meals and all the ladies of the county are cordially invited to attend the meeting. All regular members are urged to be present to complete plans for an informal all day meeting and pitch-in dinner in July at the country home of the president, Mrs. Matney. They are also especially urged to be sure the club dues are paid so the books can be balanced, as this is the last regular meeting until September.

War Department Announces Second Series to Produce Officers for Second Increment

WILL LAST UNTIL NOV. 26

Minimum Age Limit For All is 20 Years and 9 Months—Older Men Are Most Wanted

Washington, June 14.—The War Department authorizes the following:

Adj. Gen. H. P. McCain has completed plans for the second series of training camps for officers. In order to provide officers for the drafted forces of the National Army the War Department has adopted the policy of commissioning new officers of the line (Infantry, Cavalry Field and Coast Guard Artillery) purely on the basis of demonstrated ability, after three months of observation and training in the officers' training camps.

To provide officers for the first 500,000 the War Department has put into operation 16 officers' training camps, with about 40,000 men in attendance. These 16 camps correspond to the territorial divisions in which the National Army will be raised. The present camps will provide line officers' sufficient in quantity and quality for the first 500,000, and a reserve for that increment. It is proposed to officer further increments raised under the draft by promotion from the ranks of the Regular Army, the National Guard, and drafted forces previously in service.

The second series of officers' training camps will be held beginning August 27, with the definite mission of producing a body of line officers, capable of filling all places in the lieutenants, and many of the places in the lieutenant grades of the second 500,000 troops. These camps will open on August 27, 1917, and the training period will last until November 26, 1917. The camps are as follows:

Fort Myer, Va., for divisional area No. 1, including the States of Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, and for divisional area No. 5, made up of the States of New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Fort McPherson, Ga., for divisional area No. 2, including congressional districts 1 to 26, inclusive, of New York State, being New York City and contiguous territories and also including divisional area No. 7 made up of the States of Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Fort Ogelthorpe, Ga., for divisional area No. 3, including New York congressional districts 27 to 43, the Pennsylvania congressional districts 10, 11, 14, 15, 16, 21, 25, and 28, and divisional area No. 6, made up of Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., for divisional area No. 4, including the Pennsylvania congressional districts not in divisional area No. 3; also including the divisional area No. 8, comprising the States of Ohio and West Virginia, and divisional area No. 9, comprising the States of Indiana and Kentucky.

Fort Logan H. Roots, Ark., or other place to be designated, for divisional area No. 10, including the States of Wisconsin and Michigan, and the divisional area No. 12, including the States of Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Fort Leon Spring, Tex., for divisional area No. 11, the State of Illinois, and divisional area No. 15, comprising the States of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

Fort Riley, Kans., for divisional area No. 13, including the States of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Iowa, and the divisional area No. 14, including the States of Kansas, Mississippi, and Colorado.

The Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., for divisional area No. 16, comprising the States of Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and California.

The minimum age limit for all is 20 years and 9 months. However, in order to attain the experienced class of men desired, preference will be given to men over 31 years of age. It will be difficult for men under that age to qualify, except in rare instances, where the applicant has preeminent qualifications or unusual military experience. Men certified as acceptable for the first series of camps, which are now in operation, must renew their applications if they were not directed to attend the first series of camps.

Applications must be made between June 15 and July 15. All applications received after July 15 will be returned. The application must be accompanied with the names of three responsible citizens who know the applicant, but letters of recommendation are not desired. Shortly after July 15 Army examiners will visit various convenient points and the applicants will be called up for examination.

Members of the training camps will receive $100 a month while in training, their transportation, uniforms and subsistence. They must agree to accept such commissions as the Secretary of War may tender to them.

The eyes of the world are looking at you

Our allies abroad, who have spent their blood and treasure in fighting the battle of civilization, are looking at you today to see if you realize what they already know.

Our sons and brothers in arms are looking at you to see if you are going to back them up with food, clothing, equipment and ammunition while they risk their lives in your defense.

Our enemy is looking at you to see whether the Liberty Loan will be over-subscribed or whether it will be a "fizzle," and he is going to gauge our ability to fight for the freedom of the world by the way we take hold of this loan.

The Liberty Loan is not over-subscribed,—the people, you and your fellow workers, must do their part.

Liberty bonds are issued in denominations as low as $50.00. Interest payable semi-annually 3½%.

BRIAND WAS A REPORTER

General Smuts Spent His Boyhood Herding Sheep—Lloyd George Another Example

(By United Press.)

London, June 14.—The lowly boyhood of Premier Lloyd George, suddenly brought into contrast with his achievements of middle life, has caused the English people to scrutinize the early careers of other entente leaders.

Ex-Premier Briand, of France, it was ascertained, was the son of a sale owner at St. Nazaire. His first job was that of a reporter for a labor paper, so poorly paid that he had to decline a lecture invitation because he had no shoes. The promoters wired money enabling Briand to buy a pair in time to deliver the lecture.

General Smuts, ex-rebel and now a participant in the Empire Council because of his victories over the Germans in Africa, spent his boyhood herding his father's sheep in Cape Colony. Later he attended an English university, becoming a lawyer.

Sir Sam Hughes the Australian Premier, also rose from a lowly rank of life and narrowly missed participation in the Empire Council.

SAYS AMERICA IS FIGHTING IN HER SENSE OF RIGHT

in utter frankness what purpose it is we seek to serve.

"It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the Imperial German government left us no self respect; no choice but to take up arms in defence of our rights as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government. The military masters of Germany denied us the right to be neutral. They filled our unsuspecting communities with vicious spies and conspirators and sought to corrupt the opinion of our people in their own behalf. When they found they could not their agents deliberately spread sedition amongst us and sought to draw our own citizens from their allegiance—and some of these agents were men connected with the official embassy of the German government itself in our own capital. They sought by violence to destroy our industries and arrest our commerce. They tried to incite Mexico to take up arms against us and to draw Japan into a hostile alliance with her and that not by indirection, but by direct suggestion from the foreign office in Berlin. They impudently denied us the use of the high seas and repeatedly executed their threats that they would send to their death any of our people who ventured to approach the coasts of Europe. And many of our own people were corrupted. Men began to look upon their own neighbors with suspicion and to wonder in their hot resentment and surprise whether there was any community in which hostile intrigue did not work. What great nation in such circumstances would not have taken up arms? Much as we desired peace it was denied us, and not of our own choice. This flag under which we serve would have been dishonored had we withheld our hand.

"But that is only part of the story. We know now as clearly as we knew before we were ourselves engaged that we are not the enemies of the German people and that they are not our enemies. They did not originate or desire this hideous war or wish that we should be drawn into it; and we are vaguely conscious that we are fighting their cause, as they will some day see it, as well as our own. They are themselves in the grip of the same sinister power that has now at last stretched its ugly talons out and drawn blood from us. The whole world is at war because the whole world is in the grip of that power and is trying out the great battle which shall determine whether it is to be brought under its mastery or fling itself free.

"The war was begun by the military masters of Germany who pro-

Nominee of the Convention Here is Praised By the Press

RICHARD N. ELLIOTT, OF CONNERSVILLE.

(Muncie Press)
In the nomination of Richard N. Elliott, of Connersville, for congress from a large field of strong candidates, the Sixth Indiana district Republicans have reached a happy solution of a complicated problem. Mr. Elliott is one of the clean, forceful, able men of Indiana; a good lawyer, a good citizen and a thoughtful, patriotic leader. He was one of the first of the 1912 Progressives in Indiana to recognize the necessity of Republican reunion, and when he returned he landed in the party with both feet.

Mr. Elliott's opponent, former Congressman Finley Gray, was retired by his constituents for good and sufficient reasons, one of them being his churlish refusal to contribute to a fund raised by members of congress of all parties for the purpose of making a present to President Wilson's daughter upon the occasion of her marriage.
The old Burnt district has sent many able representatives to Washington and in the candidacy of "Dick" Elliott is offered opportunity to maintain its best traditions.

PROHIBITION NOMINEE TO MAKE SPEECH HERE

"Bone Dry Squadron of Indiana"
Will Visit Rushville Saturday
Afternoon at 3

MAKING TOUR OF DISTRICT

The prohibition nominee for congress, Omer Hufford of Shirley, will deliver an address on the public square here Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. "The Bone Dry Squadron of Indiana" as they term themselves, is to make a tour of the district and Mr. Hufford plans to speak fifty times in the interest of his campaign. The trip through the district is being made in an automobile.

The candidate is being accompanied by J. Raymond Schmidt, state chairman of the party and J. Floyd Seelig, soloist. "War prohibition" is the slogan of the prohibitionists and Mr. Hufford will make this his campaign issue. Hufford is a native of Rush county and is widely known here. William Booth, O. F. Giffin, W. M. Alexander and C. H. Alger are among the local prohibition leaders interested in the success of the meeting.

County Superintendents of State in Annual Session

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—County superintendents of schools of Indiana met here today for their sixty-first annual meeting to discuss the year's work and make plans for the next school term. The sessions, which will continue for two days, are being held in the house of representatives chamber in the capitol building.

Speakers at today's meeting were: Wesley A. Stockinger of Columbia university; Lee Driver, Randolph county; John F. Haines, state manager of the reading circle and S. L. Clark of Scott county.

SAMUEL C. PECK EXPIRES

Native of Rush County Dies at His Home in Shelbyville

Samuel C. Peck, age 63, a native of Rush county, died at his home in Shelbyville Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock of tuberculosis after an illness of four years. The greater part of his life was spent in Shelby county. He is survived by four children, his mother, three sisters and a brother. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Peck, resides in Milroy and the sisters and brother, all of whom live in this county, are as follows: Mrs. Arlie Hungerford, Mrs. Add Richey, Mrs. Dayton Hungerford and Lafayette Peck.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

—James Tarplee made a business trip to Indianapolis today.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

RAILROAD TRAVEL IS DISCOURAGED

War Board of American Railway Assoc. Says Passenger Traffic Shouldn't be Stimulated

TO INCREASE RAIL CAPACITY

Government Wants to Utilize All Cars Possible For Freight and Troops to be Moved

Washington, June 14.—The following is authorized by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway System, and chairman of the war board of the American Railway Association:

The railroad's war board has notified the railroads of the country that the Secretary of War has approved the suggestion of the board that the holding of conventions which stimulate passenger travel be discouraged, at least until the railroads are more nearly able to handle the freight business that is being offered.

The resolution of the war board, which the Secretary of War has advised is "manifestly wise," in part follows:

"It is the sense of this committee that conventions which will bring large bodies of persons to one point should be discouraged, in the interest of conservation of fuel, to avoid congestion, and to prevent interruption of necessary freight traffic, and to conserve equipment and energies which must be applied to accomplish the transportation required by the country."

This action by the railroad war board is another step taken to increase in every possible way the freight and troop carrying capacity of the existing railroad facilities of the United States. Already carriers have been advised to adjust their passenger service and to discontinue to some extent anyway running summer excursions.

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVOR DRY MEASURE

Agrees on Bill Prohibiting Use of Non-Perishable Food Production in Making Liquor

PRESIDENT GIVEN THE POWER

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—A drastic food conservation bill prohibiting the use of any non-perishable food products in the manufacture of liquor during the war was agreed to be the senate agriculture committee yesterday.

By a large majority it was voted to authorize the president to restrict or prohibit the use of non-perishable food in the manufacture of intoxicants.

The president is empowered to commandeer spirits in bond when needed for munitions manufacture and hospital supplies. The bill will be passed as a war emergency measure.

Paris, June 14.—A Paris frantic with enthusiasm, streets massed with throngs waving American and French flags greeted Major Gen. John J. Pershing and his staff here at 6:30 o'clock last evening.

Marshal Joffre, Vice-premier Viviani, Minister of War Pranleve, American Ambassador Sharpe and a score of other dignitaries greeted the American commander. One hundred thousand people thronged the streets along the route of parade to cheer General Pershing.

District Attorney Issues Warning to Voters of Sixth District

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—L. Ert Slack, United States district attorney, in a statement to the voters of the Sixth Indiana District warned them to obey the law in the special election of June 26. Mr. Slack said in part:

"It is true that the federal government has jurisdiction to enter prosecutions for violation of federal statutes in respect to the election of a member of congress. I am keeping in touch with the situation and expect to prosecute to the fullest extent anyone who violates any of the statutes at this election."

5,000,000 Corns Lifted Right Off!

Try 2 Drops of Magic "Gets-It"

There's a wonderful difference between getting rid of a corn now and the way they used to try to get rid of it only four or five years ago. "Gets-It" has revolutionized corn history. It's the only corn remedy.

"See? Just 2 Drops of 'Gets-It' Now Tomorrow I'll Just Feel That Corn Right Off—and It's Gone!"

today that acts on the new principle, not only of shriveling up the corn, but of loosening the corn off—so loose that you can lift it right off with your fingers. Put 2 drops of "Gets-It" on that corn or callus tonight. That's all. The corn is doomed sure as sunrise. No pain, or trouble, or soreness. You do away once and for all with toe-bundling bandages, toe-eating salves and irresponsible what-nots. Try it—get surprised and lose a corn. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Rushville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Hargrove & Mullin and Frank E. Wolcott

As an automobile purchaser you are interested in just six things: Appearance, Reputation, Durability, Performance, Service, Price.

APPEARANCE

The Oldsmobile Eight is as neat and trim as a deer. It is distinctive in every line; it attracts attention everywhere. Its 17-coat luster finish, beautiful trim and luxurious upholstery make it a car you will be proud to own.

REPUTATION

The name "Oldsmobile" in itself is a guarantee. The car is built by a factory organization of trained men, many of them nineteen years in Oldsmobile service, who have a knowledge only of the construction of a high-grade car. By reason of increased production and the elimination of well known extravagances, over one hundred high-grade automobiles are created daily under the same rigorous standards and inspection which have always been associated with the name "Oldsmobile." Where else, indeed, would one look for a car enjoying the continuous favorable reputation accorded the Oldsmobile?

DURABILITY

The same high standard of material and workmanship exacted through all these years of quality building enter into the Oldsmobile Eight. Oldsmobile reputation is a veritable bond to you for honest product and durability. Its prestige is built on years of creditable road operation.

PERFORMANCE

Remarkable flexibility, fascinating smoothness of overlapping power impulses, abundance of reserve power, rapid acceleration from snail's pace to limited speed, freedom from vibration—all characteristic eight-cylinder construction—are perfected to highest degree. The comfort of the car is a revelation; the resiliency of the springs and Marshall cushion comfort upholstery contribute riding qualities unknown in cars of the same price class.

SERVICE

A twelve months' guarantee is back of each Oldsmobile. Service stations will be found everywhere. The accessibility of the eight-cylinder motor enables quick access to working parts and at a minimum expense. Likewise all mechanical units are readily get-at-able.

PRICE

Not several thousands or some other prohibitive amount, as demanded for most cars of its quality class, but simply $1367.00 f. o. b. Lansing.

A Market That Steadily Renews Itself

The works in which the car is produced have grown till they are almost a city in themselves.

But when the satisfaction of the market seems to be in sight, the horizon of that market widens and draws itself still farther away.

The reason for it all is so simple that it sounds almost absurd.

That simple reason is that the goodness of the car is seldom called into question.

The thoughts about it are the same thoughts in thousands of minds.

The market grows by what it feeds on—and what it feeds on is the performance of the car.

Deep and abounding satisfaction surrounds the sale and the use of practically every car that leaves the works.

Dodge Brothers are among the largest producers in the world.

But they will never imperil their production by sacrificing quality to mere quantity.

For that reason we believe the condition will always be what it is now.

We believe the goodness of the car will always produce a demand it will be impossible to entirely supply.

It does not look as though the market for this car could ever be entirely satisfied.

That sounds like a strange statement, but there is a sound reason for making it.

A shortage has continued now, for two years and a half, in the face of a large and steady increase in output.

The shortage may not be local, or sectional, or seasonal, but it is national, universal and continuous.

Unlimited production is not consistent with Dodge Brothers scrupulous methods of manufacture.

They must always give to their car that over-care which the public expects from them.

It is the root, and the source, and the reason for that very steadiness of demand we are describing.

They will never go beyond a production point which might place their reputation in jeopardy.

A more remarkable recognition of merit on the part of the public it would be difficult to conceive.

Every increase in production is comfortably absorbed in an increased market.

Carthage is Making Final Drive Today to Reach Their Estimated
Quota of $30,000

The banks of Rush county have responded to the last-minute appeal of the federal authorities pushing the sale of the Liberty Loan bonds and have subscribed $357,500 to the loan up to today, it was announced, but the county still lacks several thousand dollars of reaching its apportionment. The bankers organization is very anxious that the county reach its full quota.

The subscriptions of the people of the county are still very much below the total for Rush county, but the bankers have subscribed liberally to come nearer to the county's share, with the confidence that the people will invest liberally in the issue. The banks raised their subscriptions to save the reputation of Rush county which has been suffering and for the additional reason that it is the patriotic duty of the county to uphold its part of the country's burden in making the Liberty Loan a success.

The Boy Scouts have been doing some wonderful work in spreading the gospel of the Liberty Loan and several Scouts now have visions of a war medal for selling one thousand dollars worth of bonds.

The canvass of Glenwood last night and this morning by four Boy Scouts, who camped at Glenwood over night, netted subscriptions amounting to $2,200. The Boy Scouts working in Rushville yesterday turned in $2,500 more in subscriptions, making $3,500 in Rushville in two days.

Carl Webb, who is engineering the activities of the Boy Scouts in the Liberty Loan canvass, received a card this morning from F. O. Beeler of Indianapolis, who is directing Boy Scout work there, that only $49,300 had been raised by the Boy Scouts in the state. This makes it appear that the Boy Scouts efforts here have been above the average throughout the state.

Tomorrow marks the close of the campaign to sell the issue of two billion dollars. The court house bell last night tolled again, to let the people know that only two more days remained. The United States treasury also requested that church, school and court house bells be tolled today for five minutes at the beginning of each hour from 3 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Word from Carthage today was that an effort would be made to carry out that program there. The church bells and the school house bell was to be tolled as requested to call the attention of the people to the necessities of the hour. When the canvassers began this morning at Carthage, between nine and ten thousand dollars had been subscribed. Carthage hoped to make it $30,000 by tonight, the estimated full quota for that vicinity. The Bank of Carthage will be open tonight to accommodate any who may wish to invest.

The Elks, at their regular meeting tonight, decided to subscribe a thousand dollars to the Liberty Loan. Two other lodges, the Knights of Pythias and the Masons at Orange have already subscribed.

HIS BODY IS DISMEMBERED

Alonzo Matox, age forty-two, a farmer living one mile east of Raleigh, was struck by lightning in a field on his farm yesterday evening and the hogs terribly mutilated his body before it was found by his wife.

Mr. Matox went to the field to feed the hogs. When he did not return for supper, Mrs. Matox became alarmed and went in search of him. She found his body torn and rent. The hogs all but ate his feet off, gnawed at his bowels and mutilated his face so that he was scarcely recognizable. Mrs. Matox was horror stricken and went for help. Dr. Lowell M. Green, coroner, was called from Rushville.

It is presumed that Mr. Mattox was instantly killed by lightning. It appeared that the bolt had torn his shoes from his feet.

Mr. Matox lived on Mrs. Kennedy's farm. He is survived by the widow and three children. The funeral will be held at Knightstown tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Final arrangements for the campaign to raise Rush county's allotment—$10,500—to the Red Cross War Relief fund will be made at a meeting of the finance committee and their helpers and the chairmen of the township auxiliaries at a meeting to be held at Red Cross headquarters Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

The ten team captains, who are the members of the original finance committee of the Rush county chapter, received cards this morning asking each one and the three members of his team to attend the meeting. Similar notices were also sent to the heads of the township auxiliaries.

The city will be districted for the ten canvassing teams and it is likely that it will be definitely decided how much of the county apportionment must be raised in the city and how much will be expected from each township. Supplies for the canvassers will be ready Friday night.

On account of the unfavorable weather, a Red Cross auxiliary was not organized at New Salem last night, but another meeting will be held when the purpose for which the meeting was called last night will be accomplished. It is the first time in the organization of the county that there has not been a crowd large enough to form an auxiliary. A heavy storm came up just at the time for the meeting and kept many people away. Eight or ten attended, however, and plans were discussed so that a large crowd is anticipated.

BOGUS NOTE IS THE CAUSE

Washington, June 14.—Relations between the United States and Japan, upset over a misunderstanding as to America's purposes in regard to China, were straightened out satisfactorily today through an explanation sent the American ambassador in Tokio.

At the same time an investigation was started to ascertain the source of a bogus note purporting to have been cabled from New York to Tokio which aroused resentment in Japan. Japan's resentment was stirred when a newspaper printed what purported to be a note. This message made the United States say that the Chinese revolution should be quelled because Germany and Russia were about to make a separate peace and Japan intended to send her troops into Manchuria. The true notes sent China, merely expressed the hope of this government for a settlement of the internal trouble.

HE ASSAILS PROPOGANDISTS

Woe to The Man or Group of Men
That Seek to Stand in Our Way, He Says in Conclusion

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—America is at war "in the sense of our right as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government."

President Wilson thus stated why America is fighting in a speech today solemnly warning of the blood and suffering the country must endure. The address was delivered at the local Flag Day celebration. The president pictured Germany's "military masters" in a sinister plot of yearning, reaching out, corrupting and scheming to deceive their own people and master other smaller nations: "to throw a broad belt of German military power and political control across the great center of Europe and into the heart of Asia."

The president earnestly inveighed against any consideration of alleged peace proposals. Likewise he bitterly assailed German propagandists in the United States who are seeking to undermine the nation.

"For us there is but one choice," the president concluded. "We have made it. Woe be to the man or group of men that seek to stand in our way in this day of high resolution when every principle we hold dearest is to be made secure for the salvation of the nation. We are ready to plead at the bar of history and our flag shall wear a new luster."

President Wilson said;

"My fellow citizens: We meet to celebrate flag day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute these choices, whether in peace or in war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us, speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and records they wrote upon it. We celebrate the day of its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high in symbol of great events, of the great plan of life worked out by a great people. We are about to carry it into battle, to lift it where it will draw the fire of our enemies. We are about to bid thousands, hundreds of our men, the young, the strong, the capable men of our nation, to go forth and die beneath it in fields of blood far away—for what? For some unaccustomed thing? For something for which it has never sought the fire before? American colors were never before sent across the sea. Why are they sent now? For some new purpose for which this great flag has never been carried before or for some old heroic purpose for which it has seen men, its own men die on every battlefield on which Americans have borne arms since the revolution?"

"These are questions which must be answered. We are Americans. We in our turn serve America and can serve her with no private purpose. We must use her flag as she has always used it. We are accountable at the bar of history and must plead

RIGHTS OF ACCUSED.

Copyright 1917 by John A. Lapp.

Lapp. Elements of Civics, Chap. 4. Arbitrary governments often throw men into prison for alleged offenses and kept them there so that they might not be troublesome. Men were harassed by continual trials for the same offense and when thrown into prison were treated rigorously whether guilty or not.

Out of the long struggle for human liberty have come certain principles which are now a part of every man's conscience. One of these principles is, that "every man shall be deemed innocent until he is proven guilty." Every right is therefore accorded to him to prove his innocence because "it is better that ten guilty men should escape than one innocent person should suffer."

Both federal and state constitutions provide therefore that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; that every person shall have the right to a speedy and fair trial; that no person shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense; that cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted; that excessive fines shall not be imposed; and that every person shall have the right of habeas corpus—that is to have the right to be brought before the court to see if they are lawfully held.

The Indiana constitution goes further and declares that "the penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation and not of vindictive justice," thus setting up a standard for penal reform to which the state is admonished to adhere.

Of all the pernicious practices of the past, imprisonment for debt was perhaps the worst. Good men were thrown into prison where they could not earn money to pay their debts and because they could not pay they were kept there. Mere misfortune was more often the cause of imprisonment than criminal intent. The pitiable object of honest men in prison for no other cause than that they were unable to meet their debts caused good men to protest and finally, in many states, that protest became lodged in the people's conscience and was placed in their constitutions. A typical provision is this from Indiana's constitution, Sec. 22. The privilege of the debtor to enjoy the necessary comforts of life, shall be recognized by wholesome laws, exempting a reasonable amount of property from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability hereafter contracted; and there shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud.

The federal constitution contains no such guarantee and we have the condition of being protected against imprisonment for debt under state laws but not against imprisonment for debt under federal laws. However, the spirit of the provision prevents and there is not likely to be any imprisonment for debt.

The federal constitution declares: No state may pass an ex post facto law—that is a law which provides for punishment for a crime committed before the law was enacted or increases the punishment or makes conviction easier in such cases. The federal constitution also prohibits the passage of such laws by congress. Indiana has the same provision but it is unnecessary because of the federal provision prohibiting the states from passing such laws.

Likewise the federal constitution prohibits the passage of laws by the states and by congress which impair the obligations of contracts. One exception is made in a few states and is quite generally proposed—namely, that any contract granting a franchise, privilege or immunity shall be subject to alteration, revocation or amendment at any time. By this provision the rights of the public are protected against the granting of perpetual franchises by corrupt city councils or others who hold power. Since the famous Dartmouth College opinion, written by John Marshall in 1803, a franchise has been held to be a contract which could not be taken away or impaired. The experience of many cities proves the necessity that any one securing a franchise does so with the understanding that it may be taken away.

Above all rights named by the constitution, the provision—that the legislature "shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities which upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens", strikes the average person as being nearer to fair play and democracy than any single declaration. "Equal rights for all and special privileges to none" is another way of putting it.

One of the rights which the people of the United States and of each state have sought to preserve was their freedom from arbitrary military power. When our forefathers won independence and established this government, they kept in mind the dangers of military power which had been throughout history the principal menace to people's liberty. They recognized the necessity for an army and navy for common protection, but they recognized, also, that the army should be subject to the people in such a way as to prevent the overthrow of liberties by successful generals. The Declaration of Independence voiced the sentiment of the people on this subject. One of the principal causes for separation from England was declared to be that the king had "affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power," and that he had "kept among us in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our legislature."

So great was the fear of standing armies that the constitution makers in 1787, when fixing the powers of Congress, provided that Congress should have power "to raise and support armies but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years."

Thus the need to raise and support armies was recognized, but fearing lest the army should become too powerful, it was provided that its supplies would have to be voted every two years. Any attempt of an army to dominate, as in some other countries, would be met by the failure of the money chest. Indiana put in the bill of rights in its constitution the provision declaring that the military should always be kept strictly subordinate to the civil authorities.

One of the first amendments to the United States Constitution, passed in 1791, declared that no soldiers should in time of peace be quartered in any person's house without the consent of the owner. Indiana's constitution made a similar declaration. These provisions all tended to keep the military from any chance to dominate the citizens. But the people went still further in their attempt to safeguard themselves against military power. They gave authority to Congress "to provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the states respectively, the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress."

Here, then, is a complete check to prevent a standing army from becoming a menace. Thus, no money available for the standing army unless the representatives of the people in Congress see fit to vote it every two years, and the militia of the states, while under the regulation of the United States and subject to call from the United States, is commanded by men appointed by the different states, the officers being subject to appointment by the governor or other civil authorities in the different states.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR SECOND CAMP

Another School For Officers Will Be Opened Twelve Days After Close of Present One

APPLICATIONS BY, JULY 15

Army Officers Hope That Men of More Mature Years Will Apply For This Camp

(By United Press.)

Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., June 13.—Arrangements are already being made for the second officers training camp which will open at this fort twelve days following the close of the present course of instruction on August 15.

All applications for the new camp must be filed between June 15 and July 15, according to word received by military authorities at Washington. No applications will be received after that date. Those who made applications will be received for the first camp but who were not accepted, must again make formal application if they wish to enter the second camp. Their first applications will be of no avail.

The camp will be composed of men from Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia. Application for entrance should be made to the camp officials here or to Gen. Thomas H. Barry, commander of the Central Army division at Chicago or to the adjutant general of the state.

Application should bear the endorsement of three resident citizens.

Army officers here hope that men of more mature years will make application to join the next camp. Many of those who made application for the first course were barely over the age limit. Military officials realize that an officer should be a man of considerable experience, education and training in order to be able to command the respect of

AIR SUPREMACY NECESSARY TO WIN

Howard E. Coffin Tells Sub-Committee of Senate Military Affairs Committee This Today

WILL BE GREAT INSPIRATION

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—The war cannot possibly be won without air supremacy, according to Howard E. Coffin, speaking before a sub-committee of the senate military affairs committee today. He declared the greatest inspiration to American genius was to gain supremacy in her two inventions, her aeroplane and the submarine.

"The greatest service the United States government can do," he said, "is to turn our wonderful resources to giving the allies supremacy of the air."

Red Cross War Relief

The Red Cross needs $100,000,000 right away. We have been so much in the habit of seeing "O's," three in a set with a comma after them, that we are almost immune to any sensation that would a year ago have startled us had any agency asked for a million or a billion. It has been less than a billion minutes since Christ was born. Perhaps, by considering that, we may in a small measure be able to realize what a billion dollars is. But the nation is asking us to subscribe two billion dollars to the Liberty Loan and now comes the Red Cross with an appeal for $100,000,000.

That is a lot of money. But the Red Cross war council says the people of the United States will not only have to supply that sum, but much more. Henry P. Davison, chairman of the council, has said this under his own signature. So it is well that we turn to our tasks with determination because it is before us to do. Next week is the week and Rush county has to donate $10,500. We actually have to do it. There are no "ifs" and "ands."

There has been some question about the obligations of the Red Cross and its particular field of work. If the Red Cross is to be the recognized organization through which this work must be carried on, it must work in many new fields, in many new ways.

Our great trouble today is that our people do not realize the situation throughout the countries now at war. They must be made to realize them, and the obligation upon us is to see that it is done as soon as possible.

The Red Cross is doing a noble work. It is an obligation upon every man, woman and child in this country. It is hoped that it will be sufficiently realized that we shall not only enjoy the satisfaction of contributing our energies and our money, but we will also have thereby received a very great benefit.

Certainly there is nothing that this people need more than a sense of sacrifice. This is no time to listen to the man who says, "I am contributing so much here and so much there, taxes are very high and the cost of living is growing."

The question of opportunity comes up—whether we shall do it at this time or another time. There is no calendar on the battlefield. There is no waiting for conditions there, and we cannot wait for conditions here.

There are many very fine activities through other organizations throughout all parts of this country, born of the very best spirit, based on patriotism, on something of appreciation of the needs. In this campaign we can have but one thing in mind, and that is the Red Cross. It must be the Red Cross first, last and all the time, because if we begin to recognize this agency—or that agency, we will lessen our effectiveness, and no one will succeed.

Appreciating the importance of that, and recognizing the fine work these fine organizations are doing, a committee has been appointed by the War Council, with Judge Robert S. Lovett, Chairman of the Board of the Union Pacific Railroad, at its head, to coordinate the work of these organizations with the Red Cross. Where there is duplication where there is waste of effort that committee will recommend, to this activity or that activity that it bring its influence in through the Red Cross. Their character, fine personnel, fine pride, and that proper esprit de corps, which makes them feel that they want to live in history, should be recognized. We should say to such an organization, "You are doing a fine work. We need your organization. We ask you to continue, and we would like you to continue under your own name, but in co-operation with our organization."

The great patriotic movements throughout the country should be driven in a way which will be the most effective; and as the Red Cross is the recognized official organization, there seemed but one thing to do, and that was to coordinate them through our Red Cross.

Real Censorship

Mr. Root and his party traversed the continent, took a naval vessel from a Pacific port and made a Russian destination without a word being printed about it in any newspaper. Only upon their arrival on Russian soil was the information made public. Yet the newspapers knew about it. There's censorship for you of the best kind. It is far better than any which can be imposed by act of Congress or by George Creel and his bureau and Bulletin. It is the kind that is based upon patriotism and a genuine desire to be of service to the country. Such censorship strives to withhold as much as possible. Under statute-made censorship the desire would be always to get as much into print as possible.

Parading Disloyalty

Sunday, June 3, was the anniversary of Jefferson Davis's birth. That day found the United Confederate Veterans in session at the capital of the nation they had tried to disrupt. They held a memorial service at historic Arlington, the wonderfully beautiful resting place of so many nameless Union dead. The young men training at Fort Meyer were turned out to parade in honor of the butternut boys. The President of the United States went over to betoken his respect. Southern orators made melodious speeches—and the treason of a half century ago was glorified. That same day, the Department of Justice ordered the arrest of men and women in different parts of the country for attempting to hamper registration and to resist the draft. We wonder if these latter-day traitors will come to their own as the years roll by, if they will have their day when men who wear the uniform of the nation will parade in their honor, when a President will grace the occasion and when orators will extol them as having been "right" and as having no apologists. We wonder.

Soon many of our young men will be hunting the trenches in France, while others will be ogling the pretty girls on the bathing beaches. Yes, there's a difference.

Having kicked their masters out, the Russian people are up against an even harder job in kicking themselves in.

For once we are perfectly willing to see congress remain on the job. Until they provide for jailing the food hogs.

Ivy Co. No. 35 Will Leave Sunday Morning at 8:30 O'clock in Automobiles for Richmond

MAKE FINAL PLANS TONIGHT

Ivy Company, No. 35 Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will leave Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock for Richmond to participate in the Third Regiment memorial services and annual inspection. The trip will be made in automobiles and at a meeting tonight final arrangements for the trip will be made.

Brigadier General Gray will preside at the election to name a lieutenant colonel. The officer's school will be held at one o'clock and the parade will start at two o'clock. The memorial services will be held in Glen Miller park at three o'clock. General Gray and his staff will review and inspect the regiment following the memorial address. The First regiment under command of Col. Frank Shellhouse will also participate in the ceremonies. The memorial services were held in Rushville last year.

FOLIAGE IS OFTEN DAMAGED BY LARVAE

Orchardists Urged to Watch Cherry and Pear Trees by State Entomologist

LOOK AS THOUGH BURNED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—Foliage of cherry and pear trees are severely damaged each year by the larvae of a small saw fly and orchardists should take pains to protect their trees, according to a statement issued today by Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist.

"Sometimes the leaves are so severely injured that they have the appearance of having been burned," the statement says. "The flies lay their eggs under the skin of the leaves. When small they are nearly white but as they grow, a dark slimy secretion covers them and they look almost black. Wherever they are noticed the trees should be sprayed with arsenate of lead or they can be dusted with air-slacked lime which sticks to the slime on the bodies of the larvae and dries them up. On small trees in the city, they can be washed off by turning a strong stream of water from a hose on the leaves."

FEDERAL CONTROL OF MILLS RECOMMENDED

Federal Trade Commission Advises Senate to Take Over Plants of Paper Manufacturers

$17,500,000 EXCESS PROFITS

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 14.—All paper mills in the United States will be placed under government control during the war and a request made of the Canadian government to take the same course, if a recommendation made to the senate by the federal trade commission is carried out.

The price of newspaper print paper has risen more than 50 per cent since 1916, according to the report and all efforts to restore arbitrarily competition has failed. It is estimated by the commission that paper manufacturers during 1916 received over $17,500,000 in excess profits and that paper during 1917 will cost $35,000,000 more to the consumers than last year.

FIRST FESTIVAL TO BE HELD AT NEW SALEM

Rushville Merchants Will Co-Operate With M. P. Church in Holding an Ice Cream Social

SUCCESS IN FAYETTE COUNTY

The first of a series of joint rural church festivals, in which the merchants of Rushville will co-operate will be held at the New Salem M. P. church next Wednesday evening. A committee is now at work recruiting automobiles which will have Rushville business men and their families to New Salem for the festival.

The local business men will co-operate with the Methodist Protestant church and Sunday school in providing music and ice cream and cake, which will be sold. The Rev. Mr. Hiff is pastor of the church and George Spillman is superintendent of the Sunday school, with whom arrangements were made for the festival.

The business men's organization plans to hold a number of such festivals this summer in all parts of the county. A similar scheme has been tried with success in Fayette county. The second one of the season was held Tuesday evening by the Connersville merchants in conjunction with the members of a Bentonville church.

ing out at the earliest moment. It will also give them adequate hospital care when they do go out which is the very least that we can do for them. If they are willing to go out to stand knee deep in mud in war trenches, there to eat, sleep and fight for us and our homes, then let us gladly do the least of our duties by giving them adequate Red Cross backing.

All Rush County is asked to contribute now an amount equal to the value of one man. Is this too much? Is our fair county not able to respond? With fertile soil capable of the hundred fold production, warmed by the sunshine of blessing nowhere brighter or more glorious, while the refreshing rain of God's grace falls upon it in gentle yet copious showers Rush County is more than able. It is a paltry sum indeed for which to ask. Of course Rush County can and will contribute it gladly. If Rush County should fail to give this amount our faces should burn with shame. To bring peace at the earliest moment with the least loss, let us contribute at once.

Jabez Reddick, age 67, died at his home three miles east of Carthage yesterday afternoon at four o'clock of a hemorrhage of the lungs. He has been in poor health for more than year, but the hemorrhage came suddenly. He is survived by the widow and one daughter, Mrs. Ross Souder, who lives near Carthage. Three sisters, Mrs. Frank Boren of Knightstown, Mrs. Elihu Price of Arlington, Mrs. John Leisure of east of Carthage, and four brothers, Lewis, Jesse, Frank and Noah, also survive. The funeral will be held at the residence Friday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place at Knightstown.

SIX-YEAR-OLD GIRL DIES

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron Expires This Afternoon

Gladys, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cameron, died this afternoon at one o'clock at their home in Richland township. The little girl had been an invalid all her life and while her death was expected it came rather suddenly. She suffered a relapse this morning. Besides her parents she is survived by one sister and one brother. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

GREECE EXPECTED IN WAR

Abdication of King Constantine Likely to Bring This About

(By United Press.)

London, June 14.—Early entry of Greece in to the war on the side of the allies was expected following the abdication of King Constantine and the succeeding of Prince Alexander to the throne. Dispatches from Athens declared the change in rulers had been effected without disorder. Prince Alexander is known as a pro-ally. Until Greece can reorganize her own affairs France will aid the new government.

Goldia Carr and Wilbur Smith, doing business under the name of Carr and Smith, have filed suit to foreclose a garage lien against Samuel H. Colter and Willard Colter, demanding $150.

Twenty members were present last evening, when Miss Nettie Crawford entertained the Loyal Daughter's class of the Main Street Christian church at her home in East Third street. The entire evening was spent with sewing for the Red Cross and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Grant Gregg was the hostess to the members of the Wednesday Afternoon club and five guests, Mrs. Ray Lakin, Mrs. R. W. Noyer, Mrs. Carl Cruser of Kenton, Mo., Mrs. Goddell of Chicago and Mrs. Hamilton of near Greensburg. Sewing and fancy work featured the afternoon, and a dainty repast was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Emma Craig in two weeks.

DISPOSES OF ENTIRE LINE CATTLE SALE TOTALS $8380

Mauzy Co. Sells Toys and House Furnishing Ware to R. H. Jones

Six-Months-Calf at Boyd Auction Brings $300

R. H. Jones has purchased the entire line of toys, woodenware, queensware, enamelware, glassware and chinaware of the Mauzy company, which has discontinued this branch of the business. The purchase price was about five thousand dollars. The stock has been moved and as soon as it can be arranged, Mr. Jones will put it on sale, he announced today. The Mauzy Company has been handling this line of goods for about fifteen years.

Forty-nine head of Jersey cattle were sold in John F. Boyd's auction in Jersey City yesterday for the sum of $8,380. The highest price paid for a cow was $410 and the highest price of a bull, $310. A yearling heifer brought $400 and a calf six months old was auctioned off for $300. The first four cattle sold averaged $385 each and the first fifteen averaged $385. The highest priced cows went to Kentucky and Ohio.

NEW KING

London, June 14.—Prince Alexander is now king of Greece. Chancellor Bonar Law announced in the house of commons late yesterday that, the second son of the deposed King Constantine had taken the oath as monarch at Athens.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS

(By United Press.)

London, June 14.—Additions of important sections of the first line between the river Lys and St. Yves from the Germans in the British advance east of Messines were announced today. The victory again emphasizes the strength of the Messines ridge taken last week.

War Department Announces Second Series to Produce Officers for Second Increment

WILL LAST UNTIL NOV. 26

Minimum Age Limit For All is 20 Years and 9 Months—Older Men Are Most Wanted

Washington, June 14.—The War Department authorizes the following:

Adj. Gen. H. P. McCain has completed plans for the second series of training camps for officers. In order to provide officers for the drafted forces of the National Army the War Department has adopted the policy of commissioning new officers of the line (Infantry, Cavalry, Field and Coast Guard Artillery) purely on the basis of demonstrated ability, after three months of observation and training in the officers' training camps.

To provide officers for the first 500,000 the War Department has put into operation 16 officers' training camps, with about 40,000 men in attendance. These 16 camps correspond to the territorial divisions in which the National Army will be raised. The present camps will provide line officers' sufficient in quantity and quality for the first 500,000, and a reserve for that increment. It is proposed to officer further increments raised under the draft by promotion from the ranks of the Regular Army, the National Guard, and drafted forces previously in service.

The second series of officers' training camps will be held beginning August 27, with the definite mission of producing a body of line officers, capable of filling all places in the lieutenants, and many of the places in the lieutenant grades of the second 500,000 troops. These camps will open on August 27, 1917, and the training period will last until November 26, 1917. The camps are as follows:

Fort Myer, Va., for divisional area No. 1, including the States of Vermont, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, and for divisional area No. 5, made up of the States of New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Fort McPherson, Ga., for divisional area No. 2, including congressional districts 1 to 26, inclusive, of New York State, being New York City and contiguous territories and also including divisional area No. 7 made up of the States of Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Fort Ogelthorpe, Ga., for divisional area No. 3, including New York congressional districts 27 to 43, the Pennsylvania congressional districts 10, 11, 14, 15, 16, 21, 25, and 28, and divisional area No. 6, made up of Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., for divisional area No. 4, including the Pennsylvania congressional districts not in divisional area No. 3; also including the divisional area No. 8, comprising the States of Ohio and West Virginia, and divisional area No. 9, comprising the States of Indiana and Kentucky.

Fort Logan H. Roots, Ark., or other place to be designated, for divisional area No. 10, including the States of Wisconsin and Michigan, and the divisional area No. 12, including the States of Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Fort Leon Spring, Tex., for divisional area No. 11, the State of Illinois, and divisional area No. 15, comprising the States of Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

Fort Riley, Kans., for divisional area No. 13, including the States of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Iowa, and the divisional area No. 14, including the States of Kansas, Mississippi, and Colorado.

The Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., for divisional area No. 16, comprising the States of Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and California.

The minimum age limit for all is 20 years and 9 months. However, in order to attain the experienced class of men desired, preference will be given to men over 31 years of age. It will be difficult for men under that age to qualify, except in rare instances, where the applicant has preeminent qualifications or unusual military experience. Men certified as acceptable for the first series of camps, which are now in operation, must renew their applications if they were not directed to attend the first series of camps.

Applications must be made between June 15 and July 15. All applications received after July 15 will be returned. The application must be accompanied with the names of three responsible citizens who know the applicant, but letters of recommendation are not desired.

Shortly after July 15 Army examiners will visit various convenient points and the applicants will be called up for examination. Members of the training camps will receive $100 a month while in training, their transportation, uniforms and subsistence. They must agree to accept such commissions as the Secretary of War may tender to them.

The eyes of the world are looking at you

Our allies abroad, who have spent their blood and treasure in fighting the battle of civilization, are looking at you today to see if you realize what they already know.

Our sons and brothers in arms are looking at you to see if you are going to back them up with food, clothing, equipment and ammunition while they risk their lives in your defense.

Our enemy is looking at you to see whether the Liberty Loan will be over-subscribed or whether it will be a "fizzle," and he is going to gauge our ability to fight for the freedom of the world by the way we take hold of this loan.

The Liberty Loan is not over-subscribed,—the people, you and your fellow workers, must do their part.

Liberty bonds are issued in denominations as low as $50.00. Interest payable semi-annually 3½%.

BRIAND WAS A REPORTER

General Smuts Spent His Boyhood
Herding Sheep—Lloyd George
Another Example

(By United Press.)

London, June 14.—The lowly boyhood of Premier Lloyd George, suddenly brought into contrast with his achievements of middle life, has caused the English people to scrutinize the early careers of other entente leaders.

Ex-Premier Briand, of France, it was ascertained, was the son of a scale owner at St. Nazaire. His first job was that of a reporter for a labor paper, so poorly paid, that he had to decline a lecture invitation because he had no shoes. The promoters wired money enabling Briand to buy a pair in time to deliver the lecture.

General Smuts, ex-rebel and now a participant in the Empire Council because of his victories over the Germans in Africa, spent his boyhood herding his father's sheep in Cape Colony. Later he attended an English university, becoming a lawyer.

Sir Sam Hughes, the Australian Premier, also rose from a lowly rank of life and narrowly missed participation in the Empire Council.

In utter frankness what purpose it is we seek to serve.

"It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the Imperial German government left us no self respect; no choice but to take up arms in defence of our rights as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government. The military masters of Germany denied us the right to be neutral. They filled our unsuspecting communities with vicious spies and conspirators and sought to corrupt the opinion of our people in their own behalf. When they found they could not their agents deliberately spread sedition amongst us and sought to draw our own citizens from their allegiance—and some of these agents were men connected with the official embassy of the German government itself in our own capital. They sought by violence to destroy our industries and arrest our commerce. They tried to incite Mexico to take up arms against us and to draw Japan into a hostile alliance with her and that not by indirection, but by direct suggestion from the foreign office in Berlin. They impudently denied us the use of the high seas and repeatedly executed their threats that they would send to their death any of our people who ventured to approach the coasts of Europe. And many of our own people were corrupted. Men began to look upon their own neighbors with suspicion and to wonder in their hot resentment and surprise whether there was any community in which hostile intrigue did not work. What great nation in such circumstances would not have taken up arms? Much as we desired peace it was denied us, and not of our own choice. This flag under which we serve would have been dishonored had we withheld our hand.

"But that is only part of the story. We know now as clearly as we knew before we were ourselves engaged that we are not the enemies of the German people and that they are not our enemies. They did not originate or desire this hideous war or wish that we should be drawn into it; and we are vaguely conscious that we are fighting their cause, as they will some day see it, as well as our own. They are themselves in the grip of the same sinister power that has now at last stretched its ugly talons out and drawn blood from us. The whole world is at war because the whole world is in the grip of that power and is trying out the great battle which shall determine whether it is to be brought under its mastery or fling itself free.

"The war was begun by the military masters of Germany who proved to be also the masters of Austria-Hungary. These men have never regarded nations as peoples, men, women and children of like blood and frame as themselves, for whom governments existed and in whom governments had their life. They have regarded them merely as serviceable organizations which they could by force or intrigue bend or corrupt to their own purposes. They have regarded the smaller states, in particular and the peoples who could be overwhelmed by force as their natural tools and instruments of domination. Their purpose has been long avowed. The statement of other nations, to whom that purpose was incredible, paid little attention; regarded what German professors expounded in their classes and German writers set forth to the world as the goal of German policy as rather the dream of minds detached from practical affairs, as preposterous private conceptions of German destiny, than as the actual plans of responsible rulers; but the rulers of Germany themselves knew all the while what concrete plans, what well advanced intrigues lay back of what the professors and writers were saying and were glad to go forward unmolested, filling the thrones of Balkan states with German princes, putting German officers at the service to Turkey to drill her armies and make interest with her government, developing plans of sedition and rebellion in India and Egypt, setting their fires in Persia. The demands made by Austria upon Serbia were a mere single step in a plan which compassed Europe and Asia, from Berlin to Bagdad. They hoped these demands might not arouse Europe, but they meant to press them whether they did or not, for they thought themselves ready for the final issue of arms."

Nominee of the Convention

Here is Praised By the Press

RICHARD N. ELLIOTT, OF CONNERSVILLE.

(Muncie Press)

In the nomination of Richard N. Elliott, of Connersville, for congress from a large field of strong candidates, the Sixth Indiana district Republicans have reached a happy solution of a complicated problem. Mr. Elliott is one of the clean, forceful, able men of Indiana; a good lawyer, a good citizen and a thoughtful, patriotic leader. He was one of the first of the 1912 Progressives in Indiana to recognize the necessity of Republican reunion, and when he returned he landed in the party with both feet.

Mr. Elliott's opponent, former Congressman Finley Gray, was retired by his constituents for good and sufficient reasons, one of them being his churlish refusal to contribute to a fund raised by members of congress of all parties for the purpose of making a present to President Wilson's daughter upon the occasion of her marriage.

The old Burnt district has sent many able representatives to Washington and in the candidacy of "Dick" Elliott is offered opportunity to maintain its best traditions.

PROHI NOMINEE TO MAKE SPEECH HERE

"Bone Dry Squadron of Indiana"

Will Visit Rushville Saturday Afternoon at 3

MAKING TOUR OF DISTRICT

The prohibition nominee for congress, Omer Hufford of Shirley, will deliver an address on the public square here Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. "The Bone Dry Squadron of Indiana" as they term themselves, is to make a tour of the district and Mr. Hufford plans to speak fifty times in the interest of his campaign. The trip through the district is being made in an automobile.

The candidate is being accompanied by J. Raymond Schmidt, state chairman of the party and J. Floyd Seelig, soloist. "War prohibition" is the slogan of the prohibitionists and Mr. Hufford will make this his campaign issue. Hufford is a native of Rush county and is widely known here. William Booth, O. F. Guffin, W. M. Alexander and C. H. Alger are among the local prohibition leaders interested in the success of the meeting.

DISCUSS NEXT YEAR'S PLANS

County Superintendents of State in Annual Session

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—County superintendents of schools of Indiana met here today for their sixty-first annual meeting to discuss the year's work and make plans for the next school term. The sessions, which will continue for two days, are being held in the house of representatives chamber in the capitol building.

Speakers at today's meeting were: Wesley A. Stockinger of Columbia university; Lee Driver, Randolph county; John F. Haines, state manager of the reading circle and S. L. Clark of Sept county.

Senreco

The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

RAILROAD TRAVEL IS DISCOURAGED

War Board of American Railway
Assoc. Says Passenger Traffic
Shouldn't be Stimulated

TO INCREASE RAIL CAPACITY

Government Wants to Utilize All Cars Possible For Freight and Troops to be Moved

Washington, June 14.—The following is authorized by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway System, and chairman of the war board of the American Railway Association:

The railroad's war board has notified the railroads of the country that the Secretary of War has approved the suggestion of the board that the holding of conventions which stimulate passenger travel be discouraged, at least until the railroads are more nearly able to handle the freight business that is being offered.

The resolution of the war board, which the Secretary of War has advised is "manifestly wise," in part follows:

"It is the sense of this committee that conventions which will bring large bodies of persons to one point should be discouraged, in the interest of conservation of fuel, to avoid congestion, and to prevent interruption of necessary freight traffic, and to conserve equipment, and energies which must be applied to accomplish the transportation required by the country."

This action by the railroad war board is another step taken to increase in every possible way the freight and troop carrying capacity of the existing railroad facilities of the United States. Already carriers have been advised to adjust their passenger service and to discontinue to some extent anyway running summer excursions.

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVOR DRY MEASURE

Agrees on Bill Prohibiting Use of Non-Perishable Food Production in Making Liquor

PRESIDENT GIVEN THE POWER

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 14.—A drastic food conservation bill prohibiting the use of any non-perishable food products in the manufacture of liquor during the war was agreed to be the senate agriculture committee yesterday.

By a large majority it was voted to authorize the president to restrict or prohibit the use of non-perishable food in the manufacture of intoxicants.

The president is empowered to commandeer spirits in bond when needed for munitions manufacture and hospital supplies. The bill will be passed as a war emergency measure.

PERSHING REACHES PARIS

U. S. General and Staff Greeted by Frantically Patriotic Crowd

(By United Press.)
Paris, June 14.—A Paris frantic with enthusiasm, streets massed with throngs waving American and French flags greeted Major Gen. John J. Pershing and his staff here at 6:30 o'clock last evening.

Marshal Joffre, Vice-premier Viviani, Minister of War Prantleve, American Ambassador Sharpe and a score of other dignitaries greeted the American commander. One hundred thousand people thronged the streets along the route of parade to cheer General Pershing.

OBEY THE LAW, SAYS SLACK

District Attorney Issues Warning to Voters of Sixth District

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—L. Ert Slack, United States district attorney, in a statement to the voters of the Sixth Indiana District warned them to obey the law in the special election of June 26. Mr. Slack said in part:

"It is true that the federal government has jurisdiction to enter prosecutions for violation of federal statutes in respect to the election of a member of congress. I am keeping in touch with the situation and expect to prosecute to the fullest extent anyone who violates any of the statutes at this election."

5,000,000 Corns Lifted Right Off!

Try 2 Drops of Magic "Gets-It"
There's a wonderful difference between getting rid of a corn now and the way they used to try to get rid of it only four or five years ago. "Gets-It" has revolutionized corn history. It's the only corn remedy.

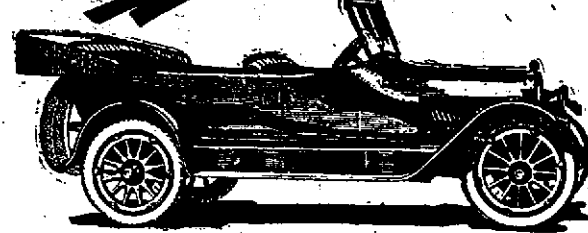

"Get! Just 2 Drops of 'Gets-It.' Now Tomorrow I'll Just Feel That Corn Right Off—and It's Gone!"

today that acts on the new principle, not only of shriveling up the corn, but of loosening the corn off—so loose that you can lift it right off with your fingers. Put 2 drops of "Gets-It" on that corn or callus tonight. That's all. The corn is doomed sure as sunrise. No pain, or trouble, or soreness. You do away once and for all with toe-bundling bandages, toe-eating salves and irresponsible what-nots. Try it—get surprised and lose a corn. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Rushville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Hargrove & Mullin and Frank E. Wolcott.

Oldsmobile

19th Year

As an automobile purchaser you are interested in just six things: Appearance, Reputation, Durability, Performance, Service, Price.

APPEARANCE

The Oldsmobile Eight is as neat and trim as a deer. It is distinctive in every line; it attracts attention everywhere. Its 17-coat luster finish, beautiful trim and luxurious upholstery make it a car you will be proud to own.

REPUTATION

The name "Oldsmobile" in itself is a guarantee. The car is built by a factory organization of trained men, many of them nineteen years in Oldsmobile service, who have a knowledge only of the construction of a high-grade car. By reason of increased production and the elimination of well known extravagances, over one hundred high-grade automobiles are created daily under the same rigorous standards and inspection which have always been associated with the name "Oldsmobile." Where else, indeed, would one look for a car enjoying the continuous favorable reputation accorded the Oldsmobile?

DURABILITY

The same high standard of material and workmanship exacted through all these years of quality building enter into the Oldsmobile Eight. Oldsmobile reputation is a veritable bond to you for honest product and durability. Its prestige is built on years of creditable road operation.

PERFORMANCE

Remarkable flexibility, fascinating smoothness of overlapping power impulses, abundance of reserve power, rapid acceleration from snail's pace to limited speed, freedom from vibration—all characteristic eight-cylinder construction—are perfected to highest degree. The comfort of the car is a revelation; the resiliency of the springs and Marshall cushion comfort upholstery contribute riding qualities unknown in cars of the same price class.

SERVICE

A twelve months' guarantee is back of each Oldsmobile. Service stations will be found everywhere. The accessibility of the eight-cylinder motor enables quick access to working parts and at a minimum expense. Likewise all mechanical units are readily get-at-able.

PRICE

Not several thousands or some other prohibitive amount, as demanded for most cars of its quality class, but simply $1367.00 f. o. b. Lansing.

A Market That Steadily Renews Itself

The works in which the car is produced have grown till they are almost a city in themselves.

But when the satisfaction of the market seems to be in sight, the horizon of that market widens and draws itself still farther away.

The reason for it all is so simple that it sounds almost absurd.

That simple reason is that the goodness of the car is seldom called into question.

The thoughts about it are the same thoughts in thousands of minds.

The market grows by what it feeds on—and what it feeds on is the performance of the car.

Deep and abounding satisfaction surrounds the sale and the use of practically every car that leaves the works.

Dodge Brothers are among the largest producers in the world.

But they will never imperil their production by sacrificing quality to mere quantity.

For that reason we believe the condition will always be what it is now.

We believe the goodness of the car will always produce a demand it will be impossible to entirely supply.

It does not look as though the market for this car could ever be entirely satisfied.

That sounds like a strange statement, but there is a sound reason for making it.

A shortage has continued now, for two years and a half, in the face of a large and steady increase in output.

The shortage may not be local, or sectional, or seasonal, but it is national, universal and continuous.

Unlimited production is not consistent with Dodge Brothers scrupulous methods of manufacture.

They must always give to their car that over-care which the public expects from them.

It is the root, and the source, and the reason for that very steadiness of demand we are describing.

They will never go beyond a production point which might place their reputation in jeopardy.

A more remarkable recognition of merit on the part of the public it would be difficult to conceive.

Every increase in production is comfortably absorbed in an increased market.
